

SUMMER CATTLE HEALTH WORKSHOP

Friday June 14th at 10am

Matt Samuels Building- Eureka, KS

Summer time in the Flint Hills of Kansas mean one thing, cattle on pasture. While this is a favorite time of year for many, we all know summer grazing season brings its own challenges. K-State Extension Veterinarian Dr. A.J. Tarpoff will be presenting an educational program covering summer health concerns. Including fly control and utilizing summer pasture facilities to create a low stress handling environment.

Workshop will Include:

- Creating low stress facilities
- Demonstration of Bud Box facility
- Summer Fly Control

Program is free to attend and does include lunch, but registration is required by June 12th. Call the Greenwood County Extension office at 620-583-7455
