A series of workshops will be held for youth over the week of spring break by the Southwind Extension District at no-charge! These workshops will be for all youth who are 7-18 years of age.

Families can expect youth to participate in hands-on learning about many products that come from the great State of Kansas. Each product will be explored through a variety of formats like photography, entomology, food & nutrition, health & wellness and visual arts to name a few. Not to mention some great guest speakers.

Workshops will be held from 1pm to 5pm at a variety of locations. Dates and locations are:

- March 11 – Yates Center – Community Building
- March 12 – Fort Scott – Buck Run Community Center Gym
- March 14 – Erie – Neosho Valley Event Center
- March 15 – Iola – Southwind Extension Office

Registration is required and can be completed online at: https://forms.gle/mR87DUAJeRtTXNqz9 or by calling your local Southwind District Extension Office. Visit our website at southwind.ksu.edu for a list of phone numbers.

For more information about the workshops or how to become involved in the Southwind District 4-H Program, please reach out to Jennifer Terrell at jkterrell@ksu.edu or 620-223-3720.